Rays of Hope

a voyage of discovery into worship, celtic style

Chard Churches Together

Worship Workshop

10am- 4pm Saturday, November 6th, 2004 at The Methodist Church in Chard

Chard Churches Together invite you to participate in a journey, to discover new ways of worship and challenge you to extend your horizons. The day will be run by Alison Adam, a member of the Iona Community (she was a member of the Wild Goose Resource Group and continues to work with them from time to time). Alison works with all ages through workshops and other events, to enable churches and groups to develop a more participative style of worship, relevant to today's world, yet still respecting traditions.

There is a choice of workshops:
in the morning -

1) Songs of Justice and Peace, and Songs from the World Church
OR
2) Head People, heart people, whole people

in the afternoon-

3) Singing the season (with Advent in mind)
OR
4) Creative use of the Bible in worship

The cost of the day is £7.50 per person. If you would like to participate, please complete and return the registration form below. We have had to set a limit of 150 people, so early booking is advisable! There will be a wide choice of books on sale, provided by the Wild Goose Resource Group. On the day, please bring a packed lunch; tea, coffee etc. will be provided during the day.

Please complete and cut off the form below and return, with payment, to:
Iris Castleton, Kimmeridge, Forton Road, CHARD, Somerset TA20 2LS
We will send you an acknowledgement with map of how to get there and where to park.
You can contact us using 01460 63310(Iris) events@chardct.org.uk www.chardct.org
